NEW SAVINGS BANK BUILDING

Handsome Structure of Brick and Limestone With Every Modern Equipment Opens for Business This Week—Public Inspection Later

The Andover Savings bank after nearly ninety years of success in hired quarters, opened for business on Monday morning of this week, in its own beautiful new building, at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. As soon as some details are completed, an opportunity will be given the citizens of the town to inspect the building, due notice of which will be given later.

The designs of the architects, Hutchins and French of Boston, who specialize in bank planning, have been carried out by the E. W. Pitman company of Lawrence. Local contractors who have had a part in the work are C. A. Hill, electrical wiring and vault fixtures; W. H. Welch company, plumbing and heating; and Frank H. Hardy, agent, interior finish.

The building is of classic style, 53 feet, 10 1-2 inches wide by 86 feet 4 1-2 inches long, the exterior walls being faced with dark red water-struck brick, with limestone trimmings, and a granite base. The principal entrance on Main street is the central feature of the facade, designed with a stone arch, 25 feet high and 12 feet wide, supported by stone columns. The intervening space being filled with plate glass. Beautiful bronze doors lead an air of distinction. On the side elevations, the central motives have the fenestration surrounded by a triple-arch treatment, recalling the entrance arch on Main street, and accentuated by flanking pavilions, with large windows, stone quoins and panels. The entire building is surmounted by a brick and stone entablature, with the name of the bank carved in the stone panels of the frieze on three sides of the structure.

The building will be occupied entirely for banking purposes. The structural features are up-to-date in every particular, and the important portions are built of fireproof construction. The interior is planned with regard to efficiency and beauty, combined with the latest ideas in bank requirements. The main entrance, through a protecting vestibule, leads into a generous lobby, separate from the main banking room, by a column and arch treatment recalling the exterior design.

The main banking room is laid out along the lines of the so-called "Island Plan"; that is, the working space of the bank is in the center of the room and the patrons are served on two sides and at the front, with executive offices, vaults, etc., in the rear of the building, in a space corresponding to the front lobby, and again marking the exterior design. The bank counter and screen are of marble, and ornamental wrought iron respectively, with latest devices and equipment for doing business; the floor of the public space is of marble. The ceiling of the banking room is formed on a graceful curve, with the high point, 29 feet above the floor, and at the window openings, penetrations intersecting the ceiling arch add beauty to the design. The walls have pilasters and arch treatment, with moulded and ornate.

WAR MEMORIAL PLANS

New Suggestions for Memorial to Soldier Dead Include Development of Playstead

A tentative plan for the development of the Playstead, which includes a memorial gateway, has been drawn by Philip Foster, and now posted for inspection in the rooms of the American Legion.

This comprehensive plan includes the grounds of the Funchard, John Dove, Samuel C. Jackson and Stowe schools, as well as the present Playstead, with the addition of the land occupied by the three houses now fronting on the extension of Whittier street, at the rear of the Funchard grounds.

The proposed memorial gateway, would be near the present entrance, opening at the head of Whittier street and fronting on a street running from Bartlett street, east along the south bank of Roger's brook. The football field would be located at the east end of the playing field, surrounded by a quarter mile cinder track. The plan provides for space for two large baseball diamonds, with two smaller ones near the John Dove school. Ample parking space for automobiles is arranged at the left of the entrance and near the new street.

Two basketball fields would be situated near the Funchard building, with another at the southern end of the field, where there are also eight tennis courts, and an open-air gymnasium.

Generous provisions are also made for the youngsters, the section at the rear of the Stowe school grounds being devoted to a children's wading pool, a merry-go-round, swings, a giant stride, see saws, a May pole, and sand boxes.

Members of the Legion are actively interested in the plan which will be discussed at the meeting next Tuesday evening.

Tuesday Club Rummage Sale

Have you got out those things you are going to give to the Tuesday Club rummage sale? If not, will you do it now?

There are people who will be glad to buy the things for which you have no further use.

This is a time when you can help yourself by disposing of articles you no longer need; when you can help others by giving them a chance to buy things they do need, for a modest sum; and help the Tuesday Club to raise funds for most worthwhile charity work.

Isn't this the opportunity for which you have been waiting?

The Guild will be open Wednesday, October 22, and Thursday, October 23, for contributions, or collections will be made if you will call Mrs. M. W. Colquhoun, telephone 260, or Mrs. F. H. Hardy, telephone 69.

The date of the sale is Friday, October 24.

LAWRENCE COLONIAL

"So This Is London" is proving immensely popular with the audiences at the Lawrence Colonial this week, for it is clever, with a strong appeal, and admirably well done by the Players. There is still time to see it, if Saturday seats are phoned for soon.

Next week's production will be "A Ramble in the realms of romance"—the first presentation east of Boston of the Lawrence Colonial this week, for it is clever, with a strong appeal, and admirably well done by the Players. There is still time to see it, if Saturday seats are phoned for soon.

Miss Vernon MacDougall Showered

Miss Vernon MacDougall of Boston, fiancée of Rev. C. Norman Bartlett, pastor of the Baptist church, was given a pleasant surprise last Friday evening in the church parlor, when more than seventy-five women of the various societies of the church tendered her a miscellaneous shower in honor of her coming marriage in November.

Miss MacDougall, who has often generously entertained Andover audiences with her readings, had accepted an invitation to attend the Philathea meeting, expecting only to assist at the entertainment.

The shower followed the business meeting and the guest of honor received many beautiful gifts, including linen, silver, aluminum and pictures.

A mock marriage was an amusing event of the evening and the fancy costumes of the participants caused much laughter. The participants: bride, Mrs. Alexander Crockett; groom, Miss Doris Dennison; bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Ricker; best man, Miss Edna Albers; clergyman, Mrs. John Bacon. Miss Gladys Dennison played the wedding march.

Several readings by Miss MacDougall and piano solos by Miss Gladys Dennison were enjoyed during the evening.

The women of the Ladies' Benevolent society, Missionary, Farther Lights and the Philathea class served refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and ice cream, following the shower.

Marcel Dupre to Play in Andover

Marcel Dupre, organist at Notre Dame, Paris, will play an organ recital in the chapel of Phillips Academy on Monday evening, November 24. Dupre's improvisations have won for him unstinted praise on the part of the music critics throughout the world. H. T. Finck in the New York Evening Post said: "Someone remarked 'he is the Paderewski of organs', and he did not say too much. Marcel Dupre's improvisations are among the marvels of modern music."

Punchard vs. Newburyport

Saturday afternoon the football team goes to Newburyport. This will be the first out-of-town game, and Newburyport is sure to put up a stiff game. Local fans are confident that a victory for Punchard will result.

Punchard 6—Melrose 0

The Punchard football team continued its winning streak last Saturday afternoon, having for its victim the Melrose High team. Although outweighed at almost every position, the local boys put up a fine game and outplayed the visitors in every department of the game. The team worked smoothly together and there were also many spectacular plays which brought cheers from the big gathering of rooters.

In carrying the ball, Stevenson, Dyer, and Souter performed excellent work. They were responsible for Punchard's only score, which came early in the second period.

The game from this time to the close was a battle royal, each team striving hard for a touchdown. The ball went back and forth from one end of the field to the other, but the goal-line was never again crossed.

The only score resulted from a 48-yard drive, during which Stevenson and Souter tore the Melrose line to shreds and scored a touchdown in thirteen plays. Counts was a tower of strength on the defense for the Punchard team and his two spectacular tackles after the Melrose man was clear, saved the day for the suburban team. For Melrose, Captain Sullivan and Reardon played well, the latter making two of the three first downs secured by the Melrose team from scrimmage. Punchard made ten first downs to her opponents' three and was in a position to score one more touchdown but lost the ball on downs on the 20-yard line. Melrose was not able to take advantage of a Punchard fumble on the latter's 25-yard line, and surrendered the ball on downs after four attempts had gained only five yards.

Punchard used only simple formations on the attack, as the Methuen squad was on hand to look over their rivals. Punchard blocked four Melrose punts, but the visitors recovered the ball each time. Coach Lovely's charges played an excellent game, and but three substitutions were made during the game. Stevenson, Souter, Fallon, and Coutts played best for the local team. The lineup:

Andover Man in Accident

Victor Shorten of this town, figured in an automobile accident while returning from the Brockton fair last Friday, in which he received a sprained shoulder and was cut about the face.

The accident occurred just over the Randolph line in Quincy, when a car driven by Clarence C. Locke of Main street, Brockton, crashed into the Shorten machine.

Shorten was taken to the office of Dr. A. W. Myrick where his injuries were dressed and he was allowed to go to his home. George Marcot of 33 Columbia street and F. Charles Quallin of 26 Columbia street, Brockton, passengers in the Locke car, were treated by Dr. George V. Higgins, Marcot having a gashed forehead, chest wound and arm injured, and Quallin had a crushed right leg. They were taken to their homes.

Mrs. C. H. Sacker of Revere street and Charles Quallin of 26 Columbia street, Brockton, escape injury. The Shorten car turned out of the line while going up hill and stopped, according to report, when Mr. Shorten saw the other car coming down, but too late to avoid collision.

Captain Amundsen to Lecture in Andover

Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, and the greatest living explorer, has arranged to visit Andover during his present lecture tour. He will speak at the Stone Chapel on Thursday evening, October 30, when his subject will be, "The Discovery of the South Pole." The lecture is given under the joint auspices of the November Club and Phillips Academy.

Holding first rank as an explorer, Captain Amundsen impresses all who see him as an outstanding and impressive personality. For the greater part of his life he has waged war against the grim forces that keep guard over the two Poles, and reached the summit of his ambition when he forced his way with five picked men to the South Pole, covering over 700 miles on his dauntless quest.

As the result of this brilliant achievement, Captain Amundsen has been honored by the foremost nations and decorated by the most distinguished societies. In addition, he has earned the affectionate admiration of the Norwegian people, who have subscribed liberally toward his expeditions for many years.

In recent times Captain Amundsen has devoted his attention to Arctic exploration, and had planned to cross the North Pole last summer in an airplane. Owing to adverse weather conditions, however, he was compelled to postpone this hazardous venture until July, 1925, when he hopes to make the crossing from Spitzbergen to Point Barrow, Alaska, a distance of 1800 miles.

Captain Amundsen is an effective public speaker and aroused the greatest enthusiasm during his previous lecture tour in this country, when he addressed large audiences in every city that he visited. He tells a thrilling story, and what impresses his hearers is his remarkable modesty, for he never uses the pronoun "I" in describing his amazing experiences in frozen regions.

Captain Amundsen's lecture here will be superbly illustrated with stereopticon views, showing the vast ice fields, the men of the expedition, their adventures, the birds of the region, camps, pack sleds, and every other feature recorded by the photographer who accompanied the expedition. The indications are that the discoverers of the South Pole will receive one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded to any visiting celebrity.

Admission will be one dollar.

Jungle Feast at Berry Pond

Members of the Andover Natural History society, to the number of thirty, gathered at Berry pond, late Monday afternoon, to partake of the jungle feast postponed from last Thursday.

An abundant supply of tomato rarebit furnished the main part of the feast, and was supplemented by corn roasted over a camp fire, and coffee, together with sandwiches, cakes and fruit, supplied by the picnicers.

Early darkness fell, subduing the brilliance of the foliage of the maple trees, with which the pond is surrounded and gathering up the remnants of the feast, the party returned to their homes by the light of the hunter's moon.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Chase, N. C. Hamblin, Rev. C. N. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Brewster, Mrs. Andrew Kydd, Mrs. Cecelia Derrah, Miss Florence Parker, Mrs. A. W. Lowe, Mrs. Stella Low, William Hamden Foster, Jr., Eleanor Ramsdell, Dorothy Ruhl, Miss Mary L. Smith, Miss Clara Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. Bradley, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn, Olive Warden, Isabella Bodwell, Mrs. George Dick, Miss Florence I. Abbott, Mrs. H. A. Ramsdell, Mrs. E. C. Edmonds, Frank E. Jenkins, Mrs. Henry Jenkins, Miss Evelyn Jenkins.

Free Church Notes

The preacher for next Sunday will be the Rev. Harris G. Hale, known by some local people in his student days in Andover, and for twenty-eight years the pastor of the Leyden Congregational church in Brookline, but now of Arlington.

If you want a good supper and an enjoyable evening, be at the parish house tonight for the feast of eatables and the moving-picture entertainment following it.

Observe Thirtieth Wedding Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Holt on Haverhill street, Shawshen Village, was the scene of a pleasant gathering last Friday evening, the occasion being the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage, when more than one hundred relatives and friends were present to offer their congratulations and best wishes. Guests were present from Andover, Lawrence, Greenwood, Chilton, Forge Village, North Andover, Somerville, and Lowell, showing the wide circle of friends of the couple. Among those present were four little grandchildren, Robert and June Carmichael, and Ruth and Bradford Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt stood before a bank of hydrangeas, autumn leaves and palms. The staircase was twined with autumn leaves, and bouquets of beautiful cut flowers decorated the various rooms. They were assisted in receiving by their daughters, Miss Emma Holt and Mrs. Lillian Carmichael. During the evening, Bartley's orchestra furnished music and Caterer Weigel of Lawrence served delicious refreshments of ices, cakes and punch.

Many beautiful gifts were received, including silver, cut glass, pictures, lamps, and other articles.

Rev. Frederick A. Wilson of the Free church, who officiated at the wedding of the couple, made a few remarks and offered a prayer, after which the following poem, written by Mrs. W. F. Hodgetts of North Andover, an aunt of Mr. Holt's, who is eighty years of age, was read by Herbert W. Holt.

Just thirty years ago today Mother and Dad were wed.
A lovely October evening when the marriage vows were said.
They started out together to travel on life's way;
It mattered little what the weather, for love shone every day.

As time went on the children came to bring to them much joy,
Two little girls came first, you know, to brighten up the way.

And then to them a son was given, a hope and a great joy;
Surely a gift from Heaven it seemed, as 'twas the only boy.

Children are like flowers: so full of life and glee;
Gifts from God to cheer us on, and make Heaven nearer be.

Time has lightly touched each brow and left few furrows there,
And smiles as always may be seen, though grey shines in their hair.

But if you think them young still, or think them newly wed,
Just wait a bit and listen to what will soon be read.

Grandchildren four are here tonight: Bobbie, tall, with eyes of blue;
And little round-faced June, who is always so fond and true.

Then sweet little Ruth, and Bradford, too, all full of fun and play;
All babies yet, with years ahead, to cheer them every day.

Glance back with me to the years that have gone:
How quickly the time has flown;
How many then living now asleep with the dead, because God willed it so.

Mother! Father! We are glad we're all here, this bright and happy day;
God grant you many more happy years to love us in the same old way.

Clan Grand Officers' Night. Capt. Connell Is Initiated

Grand officers' night was observed by Clan Johnston last Friday night in Fraternal hall, and visiting clansmen to the number of two hundred and fifty, from Lawrence, Lowell, Haverhill, Beverly, Cambridge, Boston, Chelsea, Holyoke, North Adams, and Medford, filled the hall to capacity, to greet the officers and witness the initiation of Capt. John W. Connell, as an honorary member of the Order of Scottish clans. Capt. Connell, a member of the British Royal Flying Corps and an active participant in the World War for four years, was greeted by many ex-service men of Clan Johnston.

The visitors were given a cordial reception and headed by the Kiltie band of Clan McPherson, Lawrence, entered the "moot" room and were welcomed by Alexander Valentine, chief of Clan Johnston.

The grand officers were John S. MacCurach, chief; John Malcolm, tanist; John J. McCormick, secretary; Arthur F. Wright, treasurer. Royal secretary Thomas R. P. Gibb was scheduled to be present, but was unfortunately detained. Royal deputy chief Edward C. Emslie of this town and past chief of Clan McPherson, Lawrence, was also a welcome visitor.

The initiation of Capt. Connell was admirably performed by the degree team of Clan Johnston and it received great praise from the grand officers and visiting chiefs.

The members of team follow:

Chief P. C., Alfred Robb; Past Chief P. C., John McGrath; tanist, James Benvie; chaplain, George Fyffe; secretary, Charles Scobie; treasurer, George Baxter; financial secretary, John Drummond; senior henchman, William MacKenzie; junior henchman, Henry Cairnie; seneschal, P. C. William R. Gordon; warder, James Robb; sentinel, Alex Hess.

The work was made more impressive by the excellent singing of several members of the Clan Johnston quartet; John H. Garden, first tenor; Robert Cargill, second tenor; Alexander Bertram, first bass; David A. Forbes, second bass. William Walker was pianist.

Following the initiation an excellent program was rendered. The address of welcome was given by Chief Alexander Valentine, and among others who spoke were the grand officers, Capt. Connell, Royal deputy, Edward C. Emslie, chief, Andrew L. Duncan, son of Clan McPherson, and Ignatius MacNulty, head of the labor department of the American Woolen Company.

The musical numbers included a solo, "Mary" by Robert Cargill; "Homeless Lassie" by David A. Forbes; "My Ain Dear Nell" by John H. Garden, and the popular "Let Me Like a Soldier Fall" by Alex Bertram. William Walker was the accompanist.

Refreshments were served and the evening's sociability closed with a number by the Kiltie band and a singing of the international parting song, "Auld Lang Syne."

The committee of arrangements was Chief Alexander Valentine, Alfred Robb, P. C., and William Walker.

Vote! Vote! Vote!

In every state in New England except Massachusetts, the rural voter has more power than the city voter. In this state, with a country population of approximately 202,108 against an urban population of 3,448,140, the value of the rural vote is the same as that of the city vote.

This is as it should be. It marks the escape of Massachusetts from the old "rotten borough" system which prevailed here and in England at the time when our state and federal constitutions were in the making. Even today, when one man's vote is generally supposed to be as good as another's, each Connecticut and Vermont town, big or little, still has two members in its House of Representatives; Rhode Island has a property qualification for local offices; and New Hampshire has 417 members in its House—one from every town regardless of size. This rural vote is even stronger in the western states.

Looked at in the light of the coming Presidential election, this individual equality of voting power in the Commonwealth means just one thing: the smaller communities in this state, in order to make their wishes properly felt and thoroughly representative, must turn out in larger numbers than in any other state in New England.

Such is the local situation, but there is still another interesting aspect to the next election-time. The Constitution of the United States says "Each State shall appoint . . . a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress". Nevada, with a population in 1920 of 77,407, has just as many Senators as Massachusetts with its total of 3,650,248. One vote in Nevada, incidentally, is worth just forty-seven votes in Massachusetts, when it comes to selecting Cabinets, making treaties, or amending the Constitution. In all fairness, under this system of representation, Massachusetts should have eighty-one electoral votes representing her Senators, if Nevada is to have two. As we all know, such is not the case.

The point which the Townsman wishes to bring out is this: if President Calvin Coolidge is to be re-elected President of the United States, it behooves every voter in this State and throughout New England to see to it that he votes! It is a generally accepted fact that the minority of eligible voters practically "run" this country now, but it is not so clearly understood that a minority in the West, where the rural vote is by far the strongest factor, is a minority of exceptional and ominous power.

An examination of typical elections during the past decade or so will convince one that indifference toward the vote is a serious matter. Twenty years ago the percentage of those exercising their franchises was over two and one half times that which it was in the past year. History shows that the minute a self-satisfied majority becomes drowsy or careless, feeling sure that things will run along as usual under a minimum amount of observance and cultivation, then it is that the greatest danger from an unbalanced but enthusiastic minority exists. If it is not a duty to vote, let it be at least considered a matter of safety, and let us make Massachusetts votes count in the next election.

Editorial Cider

Just twelve months after ground was first broken, the new Andover Savings Bank building is completed and open for business. A steadily expanding business throughout ninety years has called for more adequate quarters and the present handsome building, one of the finest of the kind in the Commonwealth, satisfies present needs and provides for the continued prosperity of one of Andover's important institutions. The Townsman welcomes the Andover Savings Bank as a nearer neighbor.

Order of the Eastern Star Holds Banquet

The annual inspection of Andover Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, took place Tuesday evening in Masonic hall, Mrs. Minerva M. Sault, past matron of Highland chapter, Somerville, and deputy grand matron of the Grand Chapter, being the inspecting officer.

The meeting opened at five o'clock, in Masonic hall, and when all had gathered, adjournment was made to the town hall, where about two hundred sat down to a delicious banquet, served by Caterer C. C. Whittemore of Boston.

The menu consisted of grapefruit, roast chicken, baked ham, scalloped oysters, potato, banana fritters, chicken salad, olives and celery, ice of all kinds, cakes and coffee. During the banquet, Lundgren's orchestra furnished music.

The members then returned to Masonic hall, where the work of inspection was carried on.

Mrs. Sault was assisted in her work by Clesson S. Curtice, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter; Mrs. Mabel F. Torrey, past matron of Highland Chapter, and deputy grand marshal, and matrons and patrons of surrounding chapters.

Initiation followed the inspection, and Mrs. James P. Christie assisted in the work by singing several selections. The officers of the local chapter went through their work in a fine manner and were commended.

The biblical contact with Egypt, furnished the material for the Saturday night's program. The well-known story of "Joseph and His Brethren" dramatized by Mabel Hobb and Helen Miles, was given under the direction of Miss Mary L. Smith, and the "Pageant of Moses" was presented in a series of six tableaux, designed by H. Winthrop Feire.

Appropriate scripture selections were read by Joseph H. Blunt, and each tableau was introduced by music. The dance of the ten plagues was especially interesting, and beautiful. Vocal music was furnished by a quartet composed of Arthur W. Bassett, Everett Collins, Mrs. Philip Ripley and Miss Mabel Marshall.

The instrumental music for the tableaux, played by Stanley Pratt's seven-piece orchestra, was taken from the opera "Aida." "Moses in Egypt" and "Antony and Cleopatra." Great care was taken in choosing the music for the various entertainments, and the sympathetic rendering contributed in no small measure to the success of each evening.

Before and after the entertainments, the booths were crowded and many took the opportunity to refresh themselves at the Cairo cafe, where unusual and appetizing food was served by Egyptian maidens.

Street vendors in gay costumes, who sought out customers among the crowd, included: Edith Johnson, Helen Saunders, Beatrice Henderson, Eleanor Keith, Marjorie West, Mae Elander, Irene Cole, Dorothy Newman, Frances Hall and Georgina Cromie.

There were several purchasers for the beautiful oriental rugs exhibited by George F. Maloolf of Lowell, and a certain percentage of the selling price will be added to the proceeds of the bazaar.

On Friday and Saturday afternoons the entertainment was arranged especially for the children, and included the fire-eater, a ventriloquist, and music furnished by Mrs. Philip Ripley, piano; Miss Dorothy Beley, first violin, and Miss Susan Ripley, second violin. Donkey and pony rides around the Town house also afforded amusement for the youngsters. Grabs from the tomb of King Tutankhamen were a novelty.

In appreciation of the work of the general chairman, Miss Anna W. Kuhn, she was presented with the large piece of Egyptian applique, which adorned the outside of the Egyptian booth, an excellent copy of one brought from Egypt by Rev. and Mrs. E. Victor Bigelow. Mrs. George M. R. Holmes, chairman of the committee on the entertainment and decorations, was given a beautiful lustre vase, as a token of appreciation of her efforts toward the success of the pageant.

The reserves to be called on include: Bob Cairnie, Charles Fettes, Cy Anderson, Dave Page, Bill Hyde and Joe Black.

Former Punched Athlete to Lead Lowell Textile Team

Charles Frederickson, letter man on last year's eleven, was chosen to lead the Lowell Textile football team this fall at a meeting of the last year's letter men, held last week.

Although last spring Dick Wood was selected by the letter men for this year's captaincy, he was declared ineligible. This required his resignation, which came last week. Coach Cawley selected Frederickson as temporary captain for the Bates game last Saturday, and to act in that capacity until a man was selected to succeed Wood.

The new captain is only a sophomore and played his first year of football for the Red and Black last season. He made an impressive showing at halfback, and this year is again playing at his regular berth. Before matriculating at Lowell, the captain-elect went to Punched high, and there made a fine showing on the football team. He is also a baseball catcher, and although he did not try out for the nine last spring, he expects to try a hand at the backstop position next year.

Graduation will be held on Tuesday afternoon, November 25, at Peabody Institute, Danvers. An invitation is herewith extended to citizens to attend these exercises and receive a first-hand demonstration of the way in which their financial and moral support is being used.

Andover 7—Cushing 0

Andover was able to score just one touchdown against the Cushing team Saturday afternoon at Brothers Field. The Blue team met stiff opposition in the Cushing line and did not show up nearly as well as the previous week against Dean Academy. The only score came in the second period after a march from the visitors' 37-yard line, with Sandberg and Billhardt making most of the gain, this pair pulling a successful forward pass that was good for 25 yards, which put the ball on the 8-yard line. From there, Ward and Sandberg took it over to the 3-yard line, and Billhardt carried it over the line plunging at center.

The score came shortly after Captain Siros of the visitors was taken out of the game for a little rest before the third period. It is doubtful if Andover would have scored if this had not been the case. He gave one of the best displays of end play seen on the field for several years and broke up play after play. The team seemed listless after he went out, but on his return at the beginning of the third period there was the spirit of fight again, and it was not until the middle of the last period that Andover was able to make much impression, after they had won the Cushing line out. Andover's weakness in punting was again evident. The first period was a kicking duel between Sandberg and Connors, the latter a brother of Cushing Connors of New Hampshire State fame. The odds were in favor of the visitors, the punts being high and of good distance.

Burt A. Wheeler has reported to the Andover police that while he was returning from a business trip in New Hampshire, to his home at Elmer Conkey's on Porter road, late Wednesday evening, he was held up by two men near the road that leads to the Spring Grove cemetery, and his money and valuables demanded at the point of a revolver.

Mr. Wheeler had only a small amount of change with him, less than $5, which he gave to the holdup men, but, according to Mr. Wheeler's report, they were not satisfied and searched him thoroughly to see if he did not have more money. When they found that he did not have anything more valuable on his person, they jumped into an automobile and drove away, remarking, according to Mr. Wheeler, "This ain't the feller we're after."

Mr. Wheeler in reporting the matter to the police was so upset by the occurrence that he could give no adequate description of the men, except that they were young. He did not get the number of the machine either so the police have few facts to work on.

SHAWSHEEN LOSES GAME

Dalton Makes Twenty-Yard Dash and Saves Shawshien From a Shutout

The biggest crowd that has assembled at Athletic Park, Haverhill, for many years witnessed the game between the Shawshien A. A. and the Lions A. C. Sunday afternoon. In which Shawshien was defeated 13 to 6. It was a hard-fought duel, full of action from start to finish. Dalton, ex-Bates star, saved the Shawshien team from a shutout when he dashed 20 yards around end for a touchdown. It was a well-earned victory for the Lions. The Shawshien team had been declared a first-class team and the invaders lived up to all expectations. In the first period the Villagers nearly took the Lions off their feet. Dalton took the ball for continual gains by broken field runs. On the touchdown dash he swept around the wings, breaking away from two would-be tacklers. His running back of punts also proved a treat. The Dalton score was made in the opening quarter, which resulted six to nothing.

The Lions came back strongly in the second quarter. A recovered fumble followed by Earle Ryan's end run for 25 yards paved the way for a forward, Comfort to Timmons, which brought the first touchdown by the Lions. Not a man was near Harold as he pulled the ball out of the ozone. LeBlanc made the extra point, a drop kick. Dandurand kicked off to Dalton, who returned 20 yards. The Lions held and the Shawshien were forced to kick. McGinn came back 25 yards. Dyer, halfback of the visitors, got off some fine kicks. The half ended, seven to six, in favor of the Haverhill crew.

The Shawshien opened the second half with a continual flow of forward passes, two of which succeeded in getting first downs. Comfort ploughed the line for good gains and Sharkey McCarthy, diminutive quarterback, took the ball 20 yards off tackle. This put the Lions in position for another touchdown. LeBlanc's drop failed, and the score was averted. Orlosky recovered a fumble soon afterward and ran to the 5-yard line of the opponents. The Lions who had played stellar football, plunged over for the final touchdown. Benkus, who relieved McCarthy, recovered two successive fumbles. The Shawshien only had one sub and the boys were exhausted at the end of the game.

Balmoral Pastry Department Opens

The management of the Balmoral Spa announce the opening of their home-cooked pastry department in connection with the luncheonette now conducted there. All food sold in this department is cooked in the model kitchen on the third floor of the Spa building, under the most sanitary conditions. Only the best of materials are used and the addition of this department to the Spa makes it possible to supply the housewife with pastry dainties that it is impossible to buy elsewhere.

At the time the Spa building was erected, provision was made for such a department, and a model and up-to-date kitchen was installed on the third floor for that purpose. It was not found necessary to make use of this before, but with the increasing demand for pastry of this sort the management deemed it advisable to put it into operation. Besides selling these foods at the luncheonette, they will also be retailed to the housewife, and special orders will be taken for birthday cakes, wedding cakes, etc.

James Simpson is in charge of the kitchen and he has had a wide and varied experience in this line. The management of the Spa is pleased to offer this service to the public, at prices that are reasonable.

OPENING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Political Editor of the Boston Herald Speaks on "The Strategy of the Campaign"

The first fall meeting of the Shawshien Village Women's club was held Monday evening in Balmoral hall with Mrs. George H. Winslow presiding.

It was announced that the ways and means committee of which Mrs. J. C. Ramsey is chairman, would hold a concert in the assembly hall of the Administration building Friday evening, October 24. Among those who will take part is the Lotus Quartet. Tickets for the affair may be procured from the committee or at the Balmoral Spa.

Mrs. Albert N. Wade, chairman of the literature committee is anxious to receive the names of those interested in forming book clubs. Those desiring to do so, may send their names to Mrs. Albert N. Wade, Mrs. Walter Freiwald and Mrs. Garfield S. Chase. Announcement was made that a bakery sale would be held at the home of Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens, Argyle street, Friday afternoon for the benefit of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Albert Moore, retiring secretary, gave a very interesting resume of the work of the club for the season 1923-24. Mrs. W. A. Gabler read a report of the annual meeting at Swampscott.

The speaker of the evening was Thomas Careps, political editor of The Boston Herald, who gave an instructive talk on "The Strategy of the Campaign." His talk was purely non-partisan and he discussed in an interesting way the various candidates for the presidency. He opened his remarks with a fine tribute to the town of Andover, to the late John N. Cole and to Dr. Charles E. Abbott. In part he said: "The salvation of our government is the building up of strong parties. The present campaign is being referred to as the most wonderful, the most interesting, and the most everything possible, but it is not in any sense a crucial campaign. In fact there have been only a few such campaigns in the history of the country. Had Lincoln not been elected in 1860 the slave question would not have been settled for fifty years, and if Woodrow Wilson had not been re-elected in 1916 the history of the world would have been changed. The campaign is remarkable, however, in that after the scandals at Washington, six months ago, the Republican party has come back so strongly. The only way the Republican party can be defeated is by a combination of its opponents. However, no matter who is elected it will be right as it always has been right."

Mr. Carens then referred to each of the three conventions, all of which he attended and explained the manner in which they were conducted. The Democratic campaign, he said he would remember as long as he lived. In speaking of the candidates he said: "There was no one who could have won back the confidence of the American people as Coolidge did after the scandals when he stated that the guilty would be punished, and the innocent vindicated." He quoted ex-President Taft in referring to the Democratic candidate who said, "James A. Davis is the ablest lawyer in the United States." In Mr. Carens' opinion, he resembles the late ex-President Wilson in many respects, but without the forceful way of saying things that the late ex-President had. "If Mr. Davis is elected the country can come to a great harm and will continue to worry along as it always has," he said.

He next dwelt on the various issues such as prohibition, tariff, tax reduction, ku klux klan, and the right of Congress to override a decision of the Supreme court.

The manner in which the President of the United States is elected was explained and with the aid of a large map he pointed out the states and sections, in which each candidate could be sure of the votes, and made surmises as to how the doubtful sections would vote.

In concluding, Mr. Carens urged everyone to register and vote. It is coming to the question whether party government will survive or whether the bloc system, which is now the curse of Europe, will be used for forty or fifty years.

New Arrival

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of 39 Corbett street. The mother was formerly Miss Ethel Walker of 440 North Main street.

Dinner in Balmoral Hall

Over two hundred guests were present at the dinner given on Thursday evening of last week, in Balmoral hall, at which Miss Anne Rain of Haverhill and Max Nevins of Methuen, were the guests of honor. The ladies were presented with Chinese laundry checks, which the exchanged for clever favors and the men received cigarette holders and special cigarettes and cigars. The bride-to-be was presented with six dozen assorted pieces of glassware with 18 carat gold rims. Music was furnished by the Rainbow orchestra and vocal selections by Miss Sherman of the Boston Conservatory of Music, Sam Parker of Lawrence, and Henry A. Siegel of Keith's circuit were very much enjoyed.

Miss Rain will become the bride of Max Nevins, Monday, October 27. Mr. Nevins is well known in this vicinity, and is connected with the Nevins Auto Company, Lawrence. Miss Deborah Sandler was the hostess.

Students Arrested on Charge of Break

The arrest on Wednesday, of Robert Hurd, eighteen, a student at Bridgton academy, is believed to clear up a break into the Ward & Slatery garage at West Minot, Maine, ten days ago. Hurd is said to have admitted the burglary and to have implicated Richard Sosa, a nineteen-year-old South American student at Hebron academy.

Sosa was arrested Tuesday at Hebron by officials of Androscoggin county, who found a quantity of stolen goods in his room at the school. He claimed the property was given him by Hurd in payment of a debt, and denied knowledge of the break. Sosa is well known in Andover, having until recently made his home in this town.
